Description:

Mahón stretches along the shore of one of the best and largest natural ports in the Mediterranean Sea. The capital of Menorca still preserves a number of churches, ancestral buildings and palaces, lining streets of deep Mediterranean flavor. Ciutadella is the old capital of the island. Its remote origins have left an important archaeological heritage in the area, in the form of megaliths such as the "taulas" (megalith), the Talaiot and the navetas. This beautiful port city's historic quarter, called Es Born, is surrounded by medieval streets filled with palaces, churches and fortresses. Surrounded by green hills, Ferreries city centre is carved through by narrow and charming streets which surround the Sant Bartolomeu Church and the España Square. End up your tour visiting Es Mercadal in the centre of Menorca. The village is set at the base of Toro Mountain (the island's highest). The village is surprising for its whitewashed houses, quiet streets, and for buildings.
