Sevilla is a beautiful city rich in history and monuments. The city was founded by the Romans and the Muslims ruled Sevilla from the year 711 until 1248 leaving indelible marks in the city. The height of Seville's splendor came with the Discovery of America as during the 16th and 17th centuries its port had the monopoly on trade with the overseas colonies. The intense trading activity in Seville during this period gave rise to an urban layout filled with small palaces, noble houses, churches and convents.
